

CHIEF JUDGE ROBERT S. LASNIK

UNITED STATES DISTRICT COURT
WESTERN DISTRICT OF WASHINGTON AT SEATTLE

vs.)	DEFENDANT'S DISPOSITION
)	MEMORANDUM ON SUPERVISED
SCOTT CLANCY,)	RELEASE VIOLATIONS
Defendant.)	Sentencing Hearing: 3/8/11; 8:30 a.m.

COMES NOW the defendant, Scott Clancy, by and through his attorney, Assistant Federal Public Defender Jay W. Stansell, and requests this Court to consider the following Disposition Memorandum following Mr. Clancy's admissions to violations of supervised release.

Mr. Clancy is scheduled for sentencing before the Court on March 8, 2010, at 8:30 a.m. The defense concurs with the Probation Office's recommendation that his supervised release should be revoked, and that he should be sanctioned by a term of four months of incarceration, to be followed by four months in a halfway house, with the special conditions noted in the Probation Office's Sentencing Recommendation.

Mr. Clancy and defense counsel have worked closely with the Probation Office since his arrest on the present violations. At the FDC, he is now back on appropriate medications, and eager to return to a halfway house to once again rebuild his life. He

1 has identified to counsel and the Probation Office that he particularly needs counseling
2 by way of “relapse prevention”; in his case, a relapse being making the decision to go off
3 his prescribed medications. When he has succeeded, it has been with a combination of 4 psychological/psychiatric treatment to monitor his medications, along with ancillary help
5 – be it regular meetings with the Court, or the MRT program, or, as now suggested, a 6 regular therapist or counselor – to continue to reinforce the need for him to maintain his
7 medication regimen, and to support him when his resolve becomes infirm.

8 In light of the dominant role that meds maintenance has played in his periodic de-
9 compensation, that quickly results in new criminal conduct, Mr. Clancy supports the 10 extensive and restrictive special conditions of supervised release set forth in the 11 Probation Office’s Recommendation.

12 DATED this 7th day of March 2011.

13 Respectfully submitted,
